Dear Author(s),

Thank you very much for submitting your research article to International Journal of Islamic Banking and Finance Research (IJIBFR). We have read the paper and we found that the topic is very interesting and the manuscript showcases commendable research integrity. However, the editorial board does not believe that the current manuscript meets the standards and submission guidelines of the journal.

Editorial Board's Selection and Revision Invitation Policy (Updated on December 2020): Please note that the Editorial Board of the journal will be very selective, accepting only the articles on the basis of scholarly merit, research significance, research integrity, and complete compliance with the journal style guidelines (APA). The IJIBFR Editorial Board respects and promotes all authors and contributors on the basis of research ability and experience without considering race, ethnicity, nationality, citizenship, financial means, or any of narrow frames of reference. From December 2020, all new submissions to the journal are assessed in two stages. The first hurdle is an editorial screening where we evaluate whether a paper is likely to get through the peer review process or not. If the Desk Editor does not believe that the submission is suitable for the aims and scope, standards, and Editorial Board's selection policy of the journal, then the submission will be rejected at the front stage. Only about 25% of our submissions pass this hurdle. The submissions we decide to take forward for the peer review process fully need to be well structured, well written, good presentation of English, firmly anchored in existing academic literature, and complete compliance with the journal style guide and template. Only after careful consideration by Desk Editors based on the editorial grounds, the Desk Editor will selectively send the paper out to external peer reviewers. In particular, the following must be addressed and met the requirements and guidelines: The same rules will be strictly applied for all new submissions.

Checklist of Manuscript and Submission (Very Important Items): In particular, the following must be addressed and met the requirements and guidelines:

(1) Citation and Reference Style Guides: Authors are expected to adhere to the guidelines of APA 6th or 7th edition (American Psychological Association). Please provide full information of publications complying with the APA citation and reference styles. Please ensure that every reference cited in the text is also present in the reference list (and vice versa).

[Special Note: (1) Please ensure that every reference cited in the text is also present in the reference list (and vice versa). For this purpose please best use the "Find" function in MS-Word Documents.

(2) All citations in the text should refer to Two authors: list all authors' surname (family name) only, using "and" between two authors and separating with parentheses for the year of publication, for example, Lee and Nguyen (2020) in the main text, or everything in parentheses using "&" and separating with a comma between the two authors and the year of publication (Lee & Nguyen, 2020).

[Important! Please translate all references in local languages, at least the title of the article must be in English (i.e. Vietnamese, Indonesian, Malay, Thai, Pakistani, Arabic, Russian, Ukrainian, Chinese) into English (through Google translator or AI translators) according to APA style guide at its best.]
