Dear Kautsar Riza Salman,

the manuscript WHAT DRIVES THE LEVEL OF DISCLOSURE IN SOCIAL REPORTING AT SHARIA COMMERCIAL BANKS?, submitted to Banks and Bank Systems Journal, needs to be revised.

Comments:

When finalizing the manuscript in accordance with the requirements of the journal, please pay special attention to the fact that this is a research paper, which is a final report on the finished original experimental study (the structure is Abstract, Introduction, Literature review, Method, Results, Discussion, and Conclusion). The length of the manuscript (maximum) should be up to 6,000 words (not including the abstract, list of sources and appendices). Divide the material into sections correctly. Clearly and specifically formulate the purpose of the study! The title of the article should be specific, indicate the purpose of the study, and correlate with it. The purpose of the article is indicated in the abstract, at the end of the literature review, and in the Conclusion. The abstract (its volume is 150-250 words, but abstracts are welcome, in which the volume approaches 200-250 words) should have the following sequence of presentation of the material - relevance, purpose, method, result, and conclusion. This is exactly the sequence that should be. Most of the abstract should be devoted to the result. Give a quantitative description of the result. Do not enter in the abstract and do not use (also in conclusions) unestablished abbreviations.

Keywords should be chosen responsibly. You should not give the term, and then also its abbreviation. Their number is limited (about 8-10 words on average). They should not be repeated, just as they should not repeat the words from the title of the article. Basically it should be words, not phrases. They should reflect the main idea and content of the article. JEL Classification codes should be clarified. Their number is on average 2-4, and they should be placed in order from the main (important) to the secondary ones.

The introduction is a half-page - a page of text devoted to the relevance of the research topic and the formulation of the SCIENTIFIC problem (in which this research is being conducted) as a whole. You should not conduct a literature review here. There is no need for a literature review here. It is not necessary to tell how the research will be conducted, how the article is structured, what is the purpose of the research and what tasks the authors will solve.

The literature review should include 30-40-50 analyzed sources. It should begin with a few introductory sentences. The sequence of the text must have logic (it is not determined by the place of the mentioned work on the shelf). It must be subordinated to the purpose of the study. Do not start each paragraph with a reference to the source, but structure the text in such a way that one paragraph is an analysis of one source. The review should be concluded with 2-3 generalizing sentences. Then the purpose of the study should be formulated. After that, formulate hypotheses (right here, all together, and do not insert text between them). Of course, if you foresee them. As for the hypotheses, they should be formulated clearly and unambiguously! They should be clear and not repeat each other.

Then there should be a Methods section. Here you should describe the algorithm (procedure) of the study and provide primary data for calculations or indicate the sources of their receipt. This should be done following the logic of the academic presentation of the material.

Further, the main section of the article is RESULT. Here, not only the results obtained (analytics, systematization, calculations...), but also their economic interpretation, explanation, and justification should be given. If the hypotheses were predicted, then provide the results of their verification.

The Discussion section should include a discussion of the results of the study, a comparison with previous ones, a discussion of why the authors have such results, and an indication of future prospects.

The Conclusions should have the following logic - indicate the purpose of the study, briefly demonstrate the obtained result, and indicate what conclusions should be drawn from it. Do not cite sources in the Conclusions, and do not repeat sentences from the abstract here.

Don't start chapters with subsections. Don't break sections into a bunch of subsections. Variables in formulas must have established designations. They should be explained. Captions for figures and tables should be clear and understandable, even if they are shown in the context of the article. Do not indicate under the figures and tables that this is your own (author's) development or your own calculations because it should be so a priori. Column and row names in tables should be clear and complete.

Carefully study each sentence, each paragraph, and the entire text of the article.

The deadline for revisions is 2023-06-09

Dear Kautsar Riza Salman,

the manuscript WHAT DRIVES THE LEVEL OF DISCLOSURE IN SOCIAL REPORTING AT SHARIA COMMERCIAL BANKS?, submitted to Banks and Bank Systems Journal, needs to be revised.

Comments:

Authors are requested to follow the previous recommendations. The article is about 11 banks. About which ones? Why don't the authors list them? Why were these banks chosen? Why isn't any of their characteristics given? Why does the data end in 2019 and is already quite out of date?

Comments:

Follow the previous recommendations. ALL! Including: Shorten the Discussion section by 2-3 times. Transfer part of the material to the Literary review. In the Discussion section, there should be a discussion of the results of the study, a comparison with previous ones, a discussion of why the authors have such results, and determination of future prospects. Short conclusions. The Conclusions should have the following logic - we indicate the purpose of the study, briefly demonstrate the obtained result, and indicate what conclusions should be drawn from it. Do not refer to sources in the Conclusions and do not repeat sentences from the Abstract here.
