Title and Abstract

Title
Paradox of White Collar Crime and Fraud in Banking: Critical Analysis of Agency Theory and Gone Theory

Abstract
ABSTRACT
This study aims to criticize the causal relationship between agency theory and GONE theory with Habermas's radical humanist paradigm. Qualitative research methods and in-depth interviews with informants were used in this study. The results of the study inform that agents can be free from pragmatic agency theory through three forms of exemption. The first liberation proposed is to reduce one's greediness. The second release was carried out through an ethical and moral customer due diligence program. The liberation of the third form aims to reduce the rationality of economic relations that tend to prioritize the needs of individuals.
