EFFECT OF LOAN LOSS PROVISION, NUMBER OF CREDITS GIVEN AND FOREIGN OWNERSHIP ON CORPORATE FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

Diah Ekaningtias¹, Nanang Shonhadjji²
¹Lecturer in Accounting Department Sekolah Tinggi Ilmu Ekonomi Perbanas Surabaya, Indonesia, E-mail: diah_eka@perbanas.ac.id
²Lecturer in Accounting Department Sekolah Tinggi Ilmu Ekonomi Perbanas Surabaya, Indonesia, E-mail: nanang@perbanas.ac.id

Abstract: The purpose of this study is to determine the effect of loan loss provision, the amount of credit given and foreign ownership to the profitability of the bank. Loan Loss Provisioning. Total credits given and return on equity are used to assess how the performance of National Commercial Banks in generating net assets that can support the achievement of net profit increase. The sample used in this research is Private National Bank Foreign Exchange. method of data documentation through the official website of the Financial Services Authority. The results of the study inform that the loan loss provision, total loans and foreign ownership significantly affect the profitability of banks.

Key Words: Loan Loss provision, bank accounting, Financial performance